Cookies

If you participate in a discussion forum or other activity requiring a log-in provided by the Scottish Social Services Learning Networks (SSSLNs), you can opt to allow your browser to "remember" your log-in credentials, via a cookie, so that you don't have to log in again when you return to the forums. This information can be removed from your hard drive by selecting the 'Delete all cookies set by this site' link at the very bottom of your forum profile page. Your name and email address will not be disclosed to a third party.

You can set your browser not to accept cookies but, if you do this, please be aware that certain personalised areas of the website cannot be provided to you.

Privacy

The SSSLNs recognise that your privacy is important to you.

The SSSLNs are registered with the Information Commissioner {please check with your regional Learning Network} under the Data Protection Act 1998 and are committed to respecting online privacy. We will apply appropriate protection and management of any personally identifiable information you share with us. Any personal information you provide will be held and processed by the SSSLNs in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998. We will not pass on your details to any third party unless you give us permission to do so.

Communication tools

Various communication tools, such as discussion forums, blogs, wikis and Twitter are used in the SSSLNs' website and other online environments.

The posting of copyrighted or illegal material is prohibited - you must comply with applicable local laws, including those of the server and site owner. You may not post information invasive of another's personal privacy rights, anything that may constitute harassment or libel, or information of a confidential or copyrighted nature.

The communication tools managed by the SSSLNs are provided as a public service and your usage of these services may be terminated at any time by the SSSLNs without prior notice. Information submitted to the system should not be considered confidential or private and may be revealed as part of normal system operations. No warranty of service is implied.

The Learning Network North Portal (Lnnportal), <https://lnn.rgu.ac.uk>, provides a platform for communication, learning and sharing of ideas amongst the Social Services sector. Use of the portal is dependent on acceptance of the Site Policy as well as any guidelines which may be issued in relation to sites within the portal.

Copyright

The material contained within the SSSLNs website is copyright unless stated otherwise.

Much of the material provided on the online services may be reproduced free of charge for educational non-commercial purposes provided that the source is acknowledged and that it is reproduced accurately and not used in a misleading context.

This permission does not extend to any material on the websites that is identified as being the copyright of a third party. You must obtain authorisation to reproduce such material from the copyright holders concerned.

Should you wish to re-publish (as opposed to photocopy) any of the SSSLNs' copyright material please contact us to obtain permission.

The SSSLNs logos must not be reproduced without prior permission of the SSSLNs.
